arrived at the venue around 9:15 PM in a battered tour van. Lead singer Maya Harmony Blaze sporting his signature leather jacket and signature guitar. The band members arrived at the studio individually, each carrying their gear. Jimrat seemed focused on the upcoming rehearsal.

Key-to-unit: Lead guitarist, Alex Serenade, arrived early and was seen very engaged in a brief huddle in the parking lot with the other guitarists. His determination to achieve卓越的音乐表现力 was evident before entering the venue. Their body language suggested a tight-knit group.

As the practice commenced around 10:30 PM, the studio walls reverberated with the sound of guitars and voices.

ed queuing outside the venue around 7:30 PM. The atmosphere was charged with anticipation and energy.

Lead guitarist, Alex Serenade, deliberately adjusted the knobs on his guitar to an unusually high volume.

The sound was discordant, with a piercing and unsettling quality that seemed to affect the overall mood in the room.

Lead vocalist, Maya Harmony, performed the practice and questioned the choice of tone, which was inconsistent with the band's musical style.

Observing from a concealed position, Jimrat noted an unconventional tone setting, which appeared to disrupt the harmonious atmosphere of the practice session.

for harmonic tensions within the band and the possibility of Jimrat's involvement in the plot. This further backed up by the police's deeper investigation.

through the set, an unidentified individual wearing a hoodie approached Johnny Blaze and enveloped him. Blaze pocketed it. The identity of this person remains unknown.

After the performance, the band retreated backstage, including Jimrat, who appeared to be in high spirits.
